DENIES PART IN FIGHT BUT 3 ARE HELD FOR COURT

Joel McGlaughlin Pleas Not Guilty Before Justice.

OFFICER ONLY WITNESS CALLED

Joel "Dode" McGlaughlin, Railroad street, entered a plea of not guilty to a charge of obstructing an officer in attempting to arrest Lawrence Duncan, when arraigned before Justice of the Peace John C. Shealer, late Thursday afternoon and was held in $500 bail for the August term of court.

McGlaughlin denied the charge after it had been read to him by Justice Shealer.

"No, sir, I didn't strike him," said McGlaughlin.

It was explained to him that he was charged with obstructing an officer in the performance of his duty to which McGlaughlin declared that he was not guilty.

When McGlaughlin was asked if he could furnish $500 bail he said:

"No, sir. You wouldn't let me go out and get bail last night so I don't want it now."

Woman Pleads Guilty

Justice Shealer told him that he could not release him to get bail after he had been arrested following an altercation in Race Horse alley about 6 o'clock Wednesday evening. "You wanted to get bail about 12 or 1 o'clock and I couldn't let you out to do that," the justice told McGlaughlin.

Mrs. Jerome Hoffman, alias Alta Hoffman, Duncan's friend and companion, also charged with obstructing an officer in the performance of his duty in the same altercation in which McGlaughlin was involved, entered a plea of guilty when arraigned before Justice Shealer Thursday afternoon and was held for the August term of court under $500 bail.

Officer Spence Only Witness

Duncan told the court that he didn't know what happened, when he was arrested.

After Duncan had signed his plea he told the justice that he had "sent down" for a local attorney but that the lawyer had not put in his appearance.

Duncan admitted, when arraigned, that he had shot his father during an altercation in Maryland and that he had been sentenced to serve from three to six years in the Baltimore prison. He also admitted other arrests prior to his coming here a few months ago.

Spence was the only witness heard at the arraignment, testifying against McGlaughlin when the latter entered a plea of not guilty.

NEW 110-FT. DAM TO BE OPENED TO COUNTY, AUG. 16

$2,000 Project Sponsored by Fish and Game Association.

CCC ENROLLEES RUSH BUILDING

The new 110-foot stone and concrete dam across Marsh creek, east of the stone bridge on the Fairfield road, will be officially presented to the public next Friday evening by the Adams county fish and game association, sponsors of the new dam, it was announced today.

A crew of CCC enrollees, under the foremanship of Ed Florence, are rushing to completion the miscellaneous work preparatory to the opening of the dam and everything is expected to be in readiness next Friday.

The sportsmen's group will hold a public basket-picnic in the grove adjoining the dam beginning at 4 o'clock on Friday afternoon, August 16. Every member of the fish and game association, his family and friends and any one who wishes to attend the picnic, are invited, officers of the association said this morning.

The fish and game association inaugurated the plan to construct the dam. The association paid approximately $400 for materials used in the construction of the dam and enrollees of the two CCC camps did the work. The estimated cost of the structure has been placed at $2,000.

110 Feet Across Dam

Work was first started last winter, but cold and inclement weather forced abandonment of the project until this spring.

The dam is 110 feet across the breast. It has a 63-foot spillway and a four-foot gate. The lake, which will be created when the dam is formally put into operation, will contain approximately 12,000,000 gallons of water, it has been estimated.

There is a stone and concrete bed six feet below the water's edge with a three-foot stone and concrete rise.

Along the west bank of Marsh creek is being constructed a stone and clay re-enforcement wall which also will be completed within the next week.

The grove adjoining will be cleared, holes filled in and placed in clean condition for the use of picnic parties, the fish and game group officials said.

The regular August meeting of the association scheduled for tonight has been postponed until next Friday.

Wilbur J. Stallsmith, chairman; D. J. Forney and Norman E. Tipton comprise the committee in charge of the picnic.

Local Scouts Learn of President's Decision Due to Infantile Paralysis Cases.

Local Boy Scouts were disappointed today when they learned that President Roosevelt had canceled the national Boy Scout jamboree, scheduled to be held in Washington from August 21 to 30, because of an infantile paralysis epidemic.

The President said it was "with deep regret" that he canceled the jamboree, which was expected to attract approximately 35,000 scouts.

The decision to cancel the session was reached at a White House conference attended by Surgeon General Hugh S. Cumming, District of Columbia officials and a scout executive. Reports were considered from health officers from Maryland, Virginia and North Carolina.

"While this (infantile paralysis) prevalence was not considered to be unduly alarming," said a White House statement," the conferees decided it would be to the best interest of the scouts and all concerned to cancel the jamboree."

STUDY PLAN FOR FRUIT EXCHANGE

An Adams county fruit growers' exchange will, in all probability, be established to enable growers and buyers to contact each other and to facilitate the buying and selling of Adams county's prize fruit.

Growers, numbering about 60, in attendance at the August meeting of the Adams County Fruit Growers' association, Thursday evening, in the Biglerville auditorium, discussed the advisability of establishing a growers' exchange and all expressed their approval of the plan.

While it was not definitely settled it is believed, in well informed circles, that the exchange will be set up with headquarters in Biglerville.

The exchange, if set up, would not attempt to buy or sell the products of Adams county's orchards but would be, for the present, in the nature of an information bureau through which buyers and growers could ascertain any information they desire relative to the fruit situation in the county.

Other routine business was transacted at the meeting. Harry W. Weigel, president of the association, presided.

1 HURT AS TRUCK AND 2 CARS HIT; LIGHTS BLAMED

CRASH IS NEAR YORK SPRINGS

What police and hospital authorities feel may be Adams county's eighth automobile fatality since the first of July occurred at 12:45 o'clock this morning three miles north of York Springs on the Harrisburg road.

As a result of the accident, in which two sedans and one coal truck were involved, Harold M. Ware, 43, of 1501 Connecticut avenue, Washington, D. C., is in the Harrisburg hospital in a critical condition.

He is suffering from a concussion of the brain, a deep laceration of the skull and forehead and a possible fracture of the skull. His condition is reported as critical.

Headlights Blamed

The accident occurred on a small grade and blinding headlights was given as the cause of the crash between the three motor vehicles.

Walter E. Wilkinson, 22, of 2951 Frederick street, Baltimore, driving a coal truck with six tons of coal aboard was traveling south, going about 25 or 30 miles an hour, according to his statement to Patrolman R. E. Harleman, of the local sub-station of highway patrol, who investigated.

Approaching from the opposite direction was Mrs. Alice M. Powell, 31, of 2819 Q street, Washington, D. C., accompanied by her husband Webster, 37. They were in a sedan with Mrs. Powell at the wheel.

Behind Mrs. Powell was Harold M. Ware, alone, and driving a sedan. The Powells and Ware were friends and were traveling together.

Wilkinson told Patrolman Harleman that when he saw the two machines approaching, the glaring lights of the sedans blinded him. He said he dimmed his lights and that Mrs. Powell did the same, but that Ware, following closely behind Mrs. Powell, failed to dim his lights.

Ware's lights blinded him, Wilkinson said, and he told the patrolman that he may have been too close to the center of the road.

Mrs. Powell's sedan sideswiped Wilkinson's truck, the impact swinging her machine completely around. The left fenders and running board of Mrs. Powell's machine were strewn along the highway for a distance of about 300 feet, the patrolman said. The woman's machine also scraped an embankment as the machine swung about.

Taken To Harrisburg

Ware, traveling close behind Mrs. Powell, was unable to avoid striking the woman's machine, the officer said, and as Mrs. Powell's machine was swung around Ware crashed almost headon into her machine.

The left front end of the truck was smashed, causing damage to the extent of about $50. Mrs. Powell's machine was damaged to the extent of about $75 and Ware's machine was damaged to the extent of about $100.

Mrs. Powell, her husband and Wilkinson escaped injury.

It is not expected that informations will be laid against any of the drivers.

Farm Labor Demand Highest Since 1930

The demand for farm labor in Pennsylvania is the highest in five years, according to the federal-state crop reporting service. This demand expressed in percentages of normal was 82 on June 1. This has not been exceeded since 1930. Furthermore, the supply of farm labor, reported as 99 per cent of normal on June 1, was the lowest since the spring of 1930.

The trend in farm wages has been upward for the past two years. The average wage rate reported on June 1 this year was: Per month, with board, $22.26; per month, without board, $35.75; per day, with board, $1.35; per day, without board, $1.85. These wages are 20 per cent higher than those prevailing April 1, 1933, the record low point of the post-war period.

AWAIT STRIKES ON RELIEF JOBS

Officials in New York Told 15,000 Skilled Laborers Are Ready to Quit.

(By Associated Press)

Strikes loomed today as a new impediment to the federal government's program of finding work for jobless now on relief.

Organized labor leaders in New York city planned to call 10,000 to 15,000 skilled laborers from works projects in protest against the $93.50 monthly wage scale highest in the nation.

The New York administrator, General Hugh Johnson, back in Washington, countered with a threa to remove strikers from relief rolls permanently. The WPA office said about 700 workers were away from jobs today.

Edward F. McGrady, assistant secretary of labor, gave his attention to a similar situation in Cleveland, where labor men said union members will not work unless paid prevailing scales.

Navy officials at Philadelphia yard said a relief strike there today failed. They said only 10 of 316 workers were missing while picke claimed 90 had joined the protest.

William Green, president of the American federation of labor, at Atlantic City, predicted the relief wage strike protests would spread to Boston, Chicago, Kansas City, San Francisco, and Seattle.

Harry L. Hopkins and other relief leaders in Washington, busy with details in his announced goal to have 3,500,000 jobless transferred from the dole to payrolls by November 1, refused to be concerned over the strike reports.

Yesterday he told newspapermen "if they don't want to work the don't have too."

Bridge Collapses; 2 Motorists Drowned

Lacrosse, Wis., Aug. 9 (AP).—The West End of the municipal bridge linking Wisconsin and Minnesota collapsed today, plunging two persons to death in the Mississippi river.

The victims, Mr. and Mrs. Francis Landrieu, of Lacrosse, were drowned when their automobile caught on the bridge, dropped into the river.

Fischer Blinn, 33, and Miss Marceline Pratt 25, of Minneapolis, were rescued from the submerged car.

The car smashed into an iron girder at the top of the west approach. As the machine carcmed off the western most span of the bridge, damaged in a similar accident three years ago, the span gave way, hurling the car into eight feet of water.

Prescribes Ammonia For 'Fainting' Fruit

New York, Aug. 9.—Smelling salts for swooning orchards

A sniff of ammonia from the tiny bottle of smelling salts has revived many a fair member of the human race. Now ammonia from high pressure cylinders is advised for "fainting" orchards.

In a report to the American chemical society Thursday chemists advised farmers that vitality-lacking plants and trees could be gassed by ammonia into live production with "impressive simplicity."

The treatment, however, is limited to irrigated areas where it has been successfully used instead of solid fertilizers. The ammonia automatically dissolves in the irrigation streams and is distributed without further special attention, according to chemists.

RECOVER BODY OF BOY WHO FELL FROM CLIFF

Granby, Colo., Aug. 9.—The body of William Brode 18, son of a prominent Memphis, Tennessee, businessman, was found late Thursday at the foot of a granite cliff on the slope of Lindbergh peak.

An army of searchers had been searching the slopes of the mountain for two days after the boy tumbled over the side of the precipitous cliff Tuesday. The body was located in an almost inaccessible declivity and it required hours of arduous work by experienced mountain climbers to reach it.

More than 1,500 feet of rope were required to lift the mangled body out of the crevice, where it had lodged.

SETS MILKING RECORD

Mrs. Blanche Ebener, Carlisle, set a new record for fast milking in the annual woman's milking contest held Thursday in connection with the Cumberland county dairy cattle show at Mountain View park, near Mt. Holly Springs. She passed the old record set by one-tenth of a pound of milk. In the two minutes allotted Mrs. Ebener obtained 14.4 pounds of milk.

Loses Race by Trip on Hurdle

Shawnee, Okla. (AP).—Hitting a hurdle for the first time in actual competition cost Sam Allen, of Oklahoma Baptist university, a trip to Europe.

The $1,000 mishap" occurred at the National A. A. U. outdoor championships in Lincoln, Nebraska, where Allen placed third in a 110-meter high hurdle heat as a result of tipping the third barrier and breaking his stride.

The Oklahoman thus failed to qualify for the finals and a chance to earn himself a berth on one of the American teams sent to Europe for exhibitions.

Meat Strikers Boo At Packing Plants

Detroit, Aug. 9 (AP).—A delegation of more than 250 Detroit and Hamtramck housewives, chanting "strike yells," which ended with the words "Packers, packers, boo boo," called on Detroit packing houses Thursday to demand that meat prices be reduced 20 per cent.

They threatened to continue their boycott on meat unless the demand is met.

The caravan was good-natured, and police did not interfere.

A delegation, headed by Mrs. Mary Zuk, presented the demand, while the main body of the demonstrators, shouting noisily and carrying placards demanding lower meat prices, marched outside.

Mrs. Zuk, chairman of the United Action committee, said officials of the packing firms said they were powerless to reduce prices, some of them explaining that the plants here were merely branch offices.

Off Dole by Nov. 1, Is Hopkins' Order

Washington, Aug. 9 (AP).—Harry L. Hopkins served new notice on governors and mayors Thursday that federal withdrawal from the dole was a job that "can be done and must be done" by November 1.

At his press conference, he estimated that states and cities will put up $600,000,000 in the twelve months which began July 1, the period in which the administration plans to spend most of its $4,000,000,000 work fund, for the two-fold purpose of providing for unemployables and supplementing federal funds for work relief projects.

Announcing that the relief population declined from 19,250,000 in May to 17,937,000 in June, Hopkins simultaneously said those refusing the $19 to $94 work relief wages would have to depend on states and communities for support.

Girl Denies Part In Dickinson Death

Detroit, Aug. 9 (AP)—Jean Miller declared on the witness stand Thursday that she had nothing to do with the slaying of Howard Carter Dickinson or the robbery plot which preceded it. The robbery netted $134.

The 21-year-old dancer and "party girl" asserted that her statement to Prosecutor Duncan C. McCrea directly charging that the shots which killed the New York attorney here June 26 were fired by William Lee Ferris, were "put into my mouth" by Detective Earl Switzer.

Ferris, Florence and Loretta Jackson and the Miller woman are on trial for the slaying. Statements by each that the attorney was killed in lonely Rouge park as part of a plot to obtain money to start a "tent" show have been introduced in evidence.

50 DIE IN LANDSLIDE ON PHILIPPINES VILLAGE

Manila, Aug. 9 (AP).—An avalanche crashing down upon the village of Balongan killed 50 persons and raised the toll of dead or missing to 252 in the floods which have ravaged central Luzon island the last few days.

Over disrupted communications Thursday came the story of the landslide Tuesday night in the mountains of the sub-province Bontoc which buried Balongan and left 2000 persons homeless.

Many bodies were recovered after two days of digging in mud, rocks and trees, said reports to the Manila Tribune.

LIGHTNING BOLT KILLS EIGHTY-SEVEN BIRDS

Princess Anne, Md., Aug. 9 (AP).—Lightning which struck a large maple tree here claimed at least 87 victims—86 sparrows and one starling.

The known dead list probably would have been higher had residents discovered the death of the flock of birds before the neighborhood cats did. The 87 victims were found on the ground in the front yards of Mr. and Mrs. Warren Gladden, after the cats had had free rein for several hours.

The tree apparently was not damaged by the bolt, and the Gladden home also escaped damage.

TRIAL ON MONDAY

suaded Turnkey Jeffcoat to let him telephone to his girl friend.

The turnkey unlocked the cell-block door and Sentz stepped into the jail hallway leading to the sheriff's office. When Jeffcoat turned to lock the cell-block door Sentz made a dash for the front door with Jeffcoat at his heels, calling on him to stop.

Quickening his step Sentz dashed out the front door, down East High street to South Stratton street and thence toward the high school campus, escaping in the darkness.

Sheriff Wible was notified and with his deputies, state and local police, started a search for the fugitive. Sentz, however, eluded the posse that seemed to be close at his heels and he has remained a fugitive since.

Two Baltimore addresses have been checked and guarded as possible hideouts of Sentz but the fugitive, according to Baltimore police, has not put in an appearance there.

Sentz was seen in Taneytown several days ago but when officers arrived he had departed.

Sheriff Wible has offered a $2 reward for information leading to his capture.

Sentz was to have faced seven charges of passing worthless checks at the August term of court.

READY MADE WIFE

BY CORALIE STANTON

SYNOPSIS: Laurie is worried out of mind. She and Rex Moore love each other, but Rex is engaged to Wanda Steele and Laurie to Mark Albery, who employs both Rex and herself. Albery is in Berlin, after unsuccessfully trying to force Rex into an airplane "accident." And Laurie has gone to see a friend of her dancer sister, Gladys, because she is sure Gladys and Jimmy Dallas, a young man about town, are up to mischief.

Chapter 44

THE TRUTH

"Is Gladys with that young Dallas? Don't lie!"

Nellie nodded.

Nelly broke down altogether. It was with difficulty that Laurie got the sense of her disjointed words.

Paris—Hotel Meurice—rue de Rivoli—they left yesterday—were to be back in the middle of the week—a dead secret.

"Are they married?" Laurie asked in a dull voice.

"I don't know. Glad was awfully close about that. But I expect so. She wouldn't have gone, would she? I couldn't get anything out of her."

"Nelly, you've done a cruel thing," said Laurie unmercifully. "You ought to have told me at once. You ought to have stopped her going somehow. I'll be getting on now. I must get to Paris as soon as it can be done."

Laurie knew well enough that girls went away on holiday trips with their young men nowadays. She knew that the world at large thought little of it. But Glad was her sister, the apple of her eye.

She found the nearest telephone call box and rang up Rex Moore at Gretton, only to find that he was in London. Half crazy with anxiety, she got the Chelsea flat, and when his voice answered, she felt sick with relief, but spoke in the calmest voice.

"I want you to take me by air to Paris at once. Can you?"

He did not show the faintest surprise.

"Of course, I can, Laurie. As it happens, I flew my plane to Croydon this morning, and it is there. But what about Aibery?"

"I must get to Paris as soon as possible." She took no notice of his question. "Could we get there tonight?"

"Certainly. I'll ring up the airfield. Where are you?"

"In Streatham."

"Then you'd better meet me at Croydon."

"I haven't any money. Perhaps just enough to pay a taxi."

"That doesn't matter. I have plenty. You're in trouble, Laurie?"

"Yes."

"Get to Croydon as soon as you can. I'll be a little after you, but when we get there, we won't waste any time."

Laurie did not have to wait long for Rex Moore at Croydon.

His plane was ready for him when he arrived.

He gave her a swift handshake and a piercing look from his grey eyes, lit up with the energy of action. He also gave her pads of cotton wool to put in her ears to shut out the noise of the engines, and borrowed a flying coat for her, as it was going to be chilly up aloft.

It was a scene that Laurie never forgot. The last lingering rays of daylight swallowed in the glaring lamps of the field. The sense of unreality, of adventure; and, in the midst of it, the casual chatter of a party of Americans who had just landed from Cherbourg, and the calmly sleeping little face of a baby in the arms of a nurse.

Laurie was too preoccupied to experience the sensation of flying. It was perfect weather. She noticed nothing, not even the noise of the engines.

She sat in a kind of trance behind Rex Moore. Now and then she caught sight of his profile, as he turned his head. His face was set. He had no thought, she felt, but that of steering them across the night skies to their destination.

But she was wrong. Rex Moore was thinking of her. His thoughts were gloomy and harsh. He was remembering what Wanda Steele had said to him yesterday. Her words of sympathy had been like so many stabs.

"You know how I hate gossip and scandal, Rex, but you were well rid of your wife. I hate running down women, too, but I can't forgive her treating you as she has done.

"With my own eyes I saw her coming out of that young Dallas's chambers the other day. They were on the best of terms, evidently. He was in his dressing-gown, talking to her on the landing. And my friends, whom I had been visiting, tell me that he leads the wildest kind of life.

"He has a shocking reputation, and a young woman often visits him there quite late at night. I suppose it's she. I do feel you ought to know, as you've making the sacrifice of letting her divorce you. I can't think how she's going to get away with it. I suppose it's Albery's money that has turned her head."

He had silenced her with a few words, but the poison worked in his veins.

Was this girl who sat behind him that sort of woman? Of course, he knew young Dallas and she had met at Gretton. But was she carrying on an intrigue with him—when she was going to marry Albery? She was mercenary; she must be. She was not in love with Albery; he was sure of that.

The journey to Laurie was like a dream. It grew dark. Every now and then she looked down and saw lights, like fire-flies, far below. She did not know whether it lasted six hours or one. If they rose or dipped, she was unaware of it.

They did not exchange a single word until they circled down into a sea of light and landed at Le Bourget as easily as a gull drops on to the sea.

"A little after midnight," Rex Moore said, looking at his watch, when they stood once more on land. "Not too bad time. Did you like it, or did it bore you?"

"I don't know," she answered truthfully.

He said nothing more, but took her through the Customs and the Passport office.

"Where do you want to go to?"

"I don't want to tell you."

"And you don't want to tell me what you are here for?"

"No. It is private business."

"It must be delicedly important," he said in the old mocking way.

"It is."

"Does Albery know you are coming over here?"

"No. I don't want anybody to know. That's why I asked you to bring me."

"A compliment, I'm sure." The ugly poison still worked. Was she over here to meet this young Dallas? Impossible. She couldn't have asked him to pilot her in that case. She would have to be insane to do that. There were no other passengers for Paris.

"You must tell the driver where you want to go," he said coolly.

"To the Place de la Concorde." Laurie had been in Paris only once before, last year, when she and Glad had spent a week there on a conducted tour. She knew that the rue de Rivoli ended at the Place de la Concorde. "Are you coming to Paris, too?" she asked him suspiciously.

"Naturally, I don't want to spend the night here. May I ask, do you want me to take you home?"

"I don't know—oh, no, of course not!" She realized that there was no room for Gladys in the plane. And she was not going to leave Paris without Glad.

The car moved away.

Again the journey was made in complete silence.

When they drew up at the corner of the Place, Rex Moore helped her out of the car, and asked her:

"Laurie, won't you trust me?"

"I can't. Please don't keep me talking!"

"Do you expect me to leave you alone in Paris at this time of night?"

"I'm quite all right. Please, I must hurry!"

He looked at her and his voice changed.

"All right, Laurie. I am going to the Grand Hotel, close to the Opera. Promise me that you will let me hear from you later on in the morning. I'm not asking any more questions, but I'm not budging from Paris until I've heard from you."

"Thank you, Rex. I'll let you hear from me if I can, but I'm not going to promise."

"I'll wait until I do."

150 Missouri Families Forego Relief for Cooperative Cannery

One Group to Produce Fruits and Vegetables on Leased Farm and Another Will Run Factory; Venture Under Leadership of Minister.

Kansas City, Mo., Aug. 9 (AP).—Led by a preacher who believes "God helps those who help themselves," 250 families were off relief rolls Thursday and headed for big business.

In a cooperative endeavor resembling Upton Sinclair's "production-for-use" scheme, one group will produce fruits and vegetables, while another operates a big cannery here.

Leader of the cooperative—made up entirely of former relief clients—is the Rev Lyndon W. Harper, pastor of the First Christian church in suburban Independence, Misscuri.

"The producing unit has a five-year lease on a 203-acre farm, paying for the lease by clearing the tract of timber," Mr. Harper explained. "Much of the land already is being tilled."

The cannery, occupying a three-story building and equipped with the latest mechanical devices, is ready for operation. Lack of sufficient fruits and vegetables delayed its opening, expected next week.

"During the rush seasons," the minister said, "the plant will operate twenty-four hours a day, employing sixty persons on each shift and producing 5,000 cans an hour when operating at capacity. Ordinarily it will run eight hours a day."

Operating the year around, the plant will supplement local supplies with purchases in the open market when necessary. The food preserved will be used by the producers and sold to relief agencies.

"Each member family of the cannery cooperative is allowed one share of stock, nominally valued at $20, upon working sixty hours for the association," Mr. Harper said.

"The amount of work done thereafter and the amount of the proceeds less depreciation and amortization of a Federal rural rehabilitation loan of $15,000 will determine the extent of 'dividends' to stockholders."

INDEPENDENTS TO PLAY

The Gettysburg Independents will meet their second opponent of the York-Adams league Sunday afternoon when they tangle with McSherrystown at McSherrystown. The game will start at 2:30 o'clock.

Seven American league players have a trace of Indian blood—Roy and Bob Johnson, Elon Hogsett, Ben Chapman, Leon Goslin, John Whitehead and Odell Hale.

In the first five games Schoolboy Rowe pitched to decisions this season, he won two and lost three, all five by the margin of one run.

Balmer A. C. Downs Fairfield Nine, 6-4

After three unsuccessful attempts, Balmer's A. C. baseball team defeated the Fairfield Ramblers, 6-4, Thursday evening, on the Lincoln Way diamond.

Carl Oyler, who started on the mound for the victors, was touched for four runs and three hits. Crone, who relieved him in the first, pitched no-hit no-run ball for the last five and two-thrids innings. Crone won the distinction of being the first to hit a homerun in the Lincoln Way park when his hit went over the right field fence with one aboard in the second inning.

A double play, Roth to O'Connor to Stock, squelched a Fairfield uprising in the ninth inning.

Tuesday evening Balmer's A. C. will play host to Hunterstown on the local field.

3 Games in County League on Saturday

Three games that are expected to be hotly contested are scheduled for the Adams county league Saturday afternoon.

The league-leading Gettysburg aggregation will invade Arendtsville for a game. So far Arendtsville has failed to live up to expectations, having won but two of five league tilts. However, the apple-pickers expect to have their full strength Saturday and are determined to turn back the Sadlermen.

Johnny Maust will probably be selected to oppose the upper countians with Bob Miller held in reserve. John Deardorff or Kane loom as the Arendtsville hurlers.

Fairfield and Cashtown will tangle at Cashtown. Fairfield is making a strong bid for the second half honors of the circuit, due mostly to the fine hurling of "Hen" Bream. Cashtown has recently hit its stride with two straight triumphs after three successive losses and may be counted upon to give Fairfield a merry tussle.

Bendersville will battle the last place Midway aggregation at Bendersville. Despite being in the cellar position Midway has flashed strength during the second half and will undoubtedly cause Bendersville trouble.

An Evening Thought

Our grand business in life is not to see what lies dimly at a distance, but to do what lies clearly at hand. —Carlyle.

Out of the Past

Happenings of days gone by as chronicled in The Star and Sentinel and The Gettysburg Times the files reveal.

FIFTEEN YEARS AGO

Change in Times Staff: C. William Duncan, city editor of "The Times" for the past eighteen months, has handed in his resignation. Towards the latter part of September he expects to procure a position on the staff of a city daily.

Prior to coming to the staff of "The Times," Mr. Duncan was employed as sporting editor of the Hanover Evening Sun and as a city reporter on the Philadelphia Evening Public Ledger.

His place here will be taken by E. Lloyd King, son of Mr. and Mrs. William King, Round Top. M. King graduated from Gettysburg High School in 1918, served in the Tank Corps at Camp Colt and in two medical outfits at Camp Colt and Camp Dix, and since the end of the war has completed a course at the Pennsylvania Business College at Lancaster.

Announce Engagement: Mr. and Mrs. J. T. Galbraith, of West Middle street, announce the engagement of their daughter, Miss Leilah E. Galbraith, to T. Roy Enoch, of Holmesburg.

Moves to New Quarters: H. B. Bender, who for a number of years has occupied a large store room opposite the Citizens Trust company building on Baltimore street, is moving to the modernly equipped rooms on the first floor of the building which was formerly the Wabash Hotel, above the Court House. Mr. Bender will continue to operate a furniture and undertaking business.

Eddie Plank in Game Once Again: Eddie Plank, former pitching ace for the Philadelphia Athletics, and the St. Louis Browns, after four years' absence from the pitching mound toed the rubber Thursday night in the annual baseball classic of the town in which the court house officials vie with each other for hitting and fielding honors. Although the office holders fought hard and J. Donald Swope was the umpire until members of Plank's team carried him from the field the court house gang lost by the score of 8 to 3.

MEMORIES

THE longer we live the richer should all our memories become. The memories of our childhood, of those which clustered about our struggles for a worthy, useful place in the world, and those of family and friends which grow more precious with each added year.

Hardly a day passes without many of these memories of mine coming freshly before me. It seems only yesterday that I worked on a Boston newspaper where I first met Earl Derr Biggers, who wrote "Seven Keys to Baldpate" and many thrilling plays, as well as his great Charlie Chan stories. He died several years ago in the prime of his creative life, yet the memory of his fine character and his modest, kindly spirit is often revived in my mind. He was a real friend and a credit to literature.

Today I found a tiny bird, crying in the path of my little island where I am vacationing for a few weeks. I fixed up some simple food for it, which it took in almost ravishing fashion—and this brought back the memories of boyhood when I used to drive a cow to pasture in the little town where I lived in Michigan, and of the many thrills that came to me as I watched birds build their nests, and then hatch their young. I had a regular menagerie in those days and tamed many small animals and birds and then turned them loose about our home.

I had a happy childhood, though we lived very simply and had only the small gifts accorded to a large family and a small salary to the head of the house. All the wealth in the world, however, would not compensate for the lovely memories of those days. A father who was a minister and a mother who was gifted as artist, writer and poet—the greatest and most unselfish woman I have ever known. And this writer the only boy in a nest of four sisters, one a twin! Memories aplenty! Skates, boats, stilts, kites and whatnots. Companions scattered now—many of them silenced forever.

Life is a series of losses and disappointments—but memories live forever, and give color and beauty to experience, and these accumulated memories are what give to us all the substance of all that we are today.

Many a man has become great and useful because of the memory of his mother's prayers. I know that my faith is enriched each year—each day—by the memory of my own mother's prayers, so long ago uttered, and if I could not figure out a God in the world I would just believe in one anyway because she did.

SELFISHNESS

This life can be a sordid thing;
Of that there is no doubt,
If man lets every hurt and sting
Drive all that's pleasant out.

If man seeks only coins of gold
And reckons good and bad
By trinkets which are bought and sold
Then truly life is sad.

If nothing matters more than ease,
And selfish hopes come true,
Then life is freighted with disease
And shot with horrors through.

If man throughout his terms of years
Counts only loss and gain,
Then very bitter are his tears
And very sharp his pain.

But if man with a kindlier eye
Shall daily look about,
Life will uncounted joys supply
Which selfishness shuts out.

ACCUSED OF USING SON AND FRIENDS IN LOOTING

New York, Aug. 9 (AP).—A 37-year-old mother was held in $2500 bail on a burglary charge Thursday and was accused by police of using her son, aged 13, and two boy chums as aides in looting six Brooklyn grocery stores.

The woman, Mrs. Machaelino Capezza, was arrested after her son, Louis, confessed that he and the other two boys robbed a store while his mother acted as lookout, Detective Leonard said.

The son is awaiting sentence after pleading guilty to juvenile delinquency. The two companions, 14 and 11 years old, were to be arraigned today.

And there came one that had escaped, and told Abram the Hebrew; for he dwelt in the plain of Mamre the Amorite, brother of Eshcol, and brother of Aner: and these were confederate with Abram.

And when Abram heard that his brother was taken captive, he armed his trained servants, born in his own house, three hundred and eighteen, and pursued them unto Dan.

And he divided himself against them, he and his servants by night, and smote them, and pursued them unto Hobah, which on the left hand of Damascus.

Selassie Turning To Japan, Is View

Former Foreign Office Member to Leave for Tokyo on Secret Mission.

Addis Ababa, Aug. 9 (AP).—Developments in the Italo-Ethiopian dispute lent strength Thursday to the growing belief Emperor Haile Selassie is turning to the Orient for munitions the rest of the world thus far has denied him.

Daba Birroue, a former foreign office official, will leave soon for Japan on an unannounced secret mission, which was believed connected with getting credit for munitions and foodstuffs for conducting a war.

A lack of supplies is becoming more evident daily as outlying troops pour in the capital to get equipment only to find none is available.

Coupled with this development was a report (officially confirmed in Tokyo) that Japan would sharply establish a legation here.

All the war ministry's available supplies were doled out to troops passing through Addis Ababa a fortnight ago. Other troops are being concentrated outside the capital, while Haile Selassie and his councilors desperately comb the world for credit and equipment.

7 Italians Killed In Crash in Egypt

Rome, Aug. 9 (AP).—Seven Italians, including a cabinet minister and a famous explorer, were killed Wednesday night in an airplane crash on the Egyptian desert while on an inspection flight to Eritrea.

Three passengers and four members of the crew of the commercial plane met death in the disaster which did not become known until Thursday because the scene was far from any inhabitation.

They included Luigi Razza, 43, minister of public works who had made a brilliant rise to become one of Mussolini's chief lieutenants, and Raimondo Franchetti, 46, the explorer.

A London dispatch said Vicenzo Minasi, an Italian consul, and Major Raffaele Boetani, the pilot, were among the other victims.

Concern over the failure of the plane to arrive at Massaua, Eritrea, led to a search for it by British Royal Air force pilots and the wreckage was finally found.

RUSSIA TO TRAIN DOCTORS TO JUMP WITH CHUTES

Moscow, Aug. 9 (AP).—Delegates to the national parachute congress were told Thursday a large number of doctors would be trained to jump with parachutes so medical aid can be sent people in isolated settlements.

This problem is particularly acute on the northern coast, where communications are cut off for a great part of the year. The doctor-parachutists will carry full medical equipment when they leap.

Olympics Prove Boon for Workers

About 2,300 men are working night and day to rush the various plants of the reich sports field to completion. Several times that number are employed at other places where competitions will take place.

Thirty special trains of 15 cars each are bringing limestone to Berlin for the 136 columns and facing of the main stadium, which will be ready next May.

GOLD FILLING FROM TOOTH PLACED ON AUCTION BLOCK

Los Angeles, Aug. 9 (AP).—A gold filling from a tooth of the late Mabel Normand was among the tokens of her husband, the late Lew Cody, which were placed on the auction block Thursday

A large crowd gathered for the sale of some of the jewelry, including two diamond-encircled wedding rings, with which the actor wooed and won the screen actress.

The valuables were found in a safety deposit box. Proceeds will be used to pay bills incurred by Cody.

WIVES SWAP HUSBANDS AFTER GETTING DIVORCES

Reno, Nev., Aug. 9 (AP).—Divorce and marriage license records disclosed a husband-and-wife-trading case involving two Berkeley (Calif.) couples, here Thursday.

Mrs. Ann Clabby divorced James Clabby and Mrs. Maurice B. Carlson divorced Gordon T. Carlson at private trials in Reno Wednesday, both charging cruelty.

Shortly afterward, Clabby obtained a license in Reno to marry Mrs. Carlson and Carlson and Mrs. Clabby were issued a license to wed at Carson City, Nevada. All four gave their ages as "over 21."

German Claims Pentathlon Mark

Jena, Germany (AP)—Gerhard Stoeck, a young German student, is a serious challenger to America's decathlon and pentathlon athletes for the Olympics.

Stoeck claims a new world's record for penthalon with 3,563 points. The previous record, established in 1933 during the international students' competition at Turin by the German, Heinz Sievert, with 4,163,-535 points, was counted according to a different system.

Stoeck ran the 200 meters in 24.2 seconds; did the 1,500-meter run in 5.08; broad jumped 22 feet 4⅞ inches; tossed the discus 153 feet 4½ inches; and hurled the javelin 209 feet 9¾ inches.

Stoeck is training for the decathlon now.

School Acquires Swimming Hole

St. Cloud, Minn. (AP)—The old swimming hole over yonder by the St. Cloud Teachers' college campus "just ain't any more."

Much to the regret of the neighborhood gang, the place has been acquired by the college and dressed up into a rather swanky pool.

Urge Poisoning Of Beetle Grubs

Harrisburg — As a protection to lawns against the ravages of Japanese beetlegrubs in heavily infested areas, entomologists of the state department of agriculture recommend treating the soil with arsenate of lead.

Ten pounds of arsenate of lead per 1000 square feet of the lawn is said to be satisfactory and is probably the amount to use under most conditions. This can be applied either dry or with water. If applied dry, the arsenate should be well mixed at the rate of one (1) part of the poison to twenty-five (25) parts of slightly moist sand or sifted soil, and broadcasted by hand. Arsenate of lead is a poison and must be handled with care. After broadcasting, it is advisable to wash the mixture into the soil with a garden hose if available.

Where the grass has been destroyed by the beetles, the top should be dug up to a depth of three inches and arsenate of lead mixed with the soil at the rate of thirty-five pounds to 1000 square feet.

The arsenate of lead treatment which is most effective when it is made a neighborhood project, should be applied in late summer or early fall.

GET GOLDEN PLY BLOW-OUT PROTECTION NOW

• When you hear anyone say blow-outs aren't dangerous, you can mark him down for one who just doesn't know. Here's what Jimmie McLarnin has to say about the one he had: "I was hitting it up when my left front tire blew out. My car hurtled across the highway and plunged off the road. If anything had been coming the other way, you could have counted me out on the spot. A punch may knock you out, sure — but it takes only one blow-out to finish you off. So now I'm playing safe — I have Goodrich Safety Silvertowns on all four wheels."

No Extra Cost!

Why not get the Life-Saver Golden Ply blow-out protection found only in Goodrich Safety Silvertowns? You'll also get positive protection against dangerous "tail-spin" skids. And remember, Silvertowns cost no more than other standard tires.

State of Seige Is Reported at Toulon

Action Taken at French Town as Two Are Killed and 50 Hurt In Riots.

Paris, Aug. 9 (AP).—A state of siege was reported proclaimed early Thursday at Toulon, where two persons were killed and more than 50 injured in riotous demonstrations by marine workers against government-ordered pay cuts.

Fierce rioting broke out at the Toulon naval arsenal after a day of widespread disorders in French seaport cities by workers protesting against economy measures decreed by Premier Pierre Laval.

Shortly after midnight an infantry battalion was ordered to clear the streets of Toulon as rioters continued to fire on mounted guards. The fighting continued in darkness occasionally swept by naval searchlights as the mob smashed street lamps.

Mobile guards were ordered out by authorities after workers in Toulon and Cherbourg had staged tumultuous demonstrations against the government decrees.

John Jacobs, coach of the Big Six champion Oklahoma track team, was a great Sooner star himself. In the class of '15, he held four Southwestern conference records including 15-flat for the high hurdles, which was the then-world record.

STOCK REPORT

New York, Aug. 9 (AP).—Virtually all groups of stocks joined in a fast forward push in today's market. Merchandise, motor, steel, aircraft, and even the recently hesitant rail and utility shares registered gains of fractions to more than two points. Many new highs for the year or longer were in evidence.

Among the more active advances were those for Sears Roebuck, Montgomery Ward, American Telephone, Western Union, Union Pacific, Santa Fe, General Motors, Chrysler, U. S. Steel, Bethlehem, Douglas Aircraft, United Aircraft, Bendix, Baldwin Locomotive preferred, Johns Manville and Kennecot. The late tone was strong.

Ohio Flood Loss Set at $3,000,000

Officials Touring Stricken Area Agree With Estimate; Two Streams Receded.

Coshocton, Ohio, Aug. 9 (AP).—The tumultous waters of the Muskingum river, gorged from overflowing tributaries, swept into Southeastern Ohio Thursday night with damage in their wake unofficially estimated at $3,000,000.

N official estimate of the damage has yet been made. However, state, city and county officials and newspaper men who have toured the stricken regions were agreed that the estimate is approximately correct.

Two major feeder streams, the Tuscarawas and the Walhonding, began to recede slowly Friday afternoon, indicating danger of further damage was past.

The state's worst flood in twenty-two years has exacted a toll of at least two lives and one person missing, forced hundreds of families to vacate their homes, wiped out miles of highways and railroads, destroyed scores of bridges and caused heavy damage to rich farmlands.

China is becoming an increasingly important market for American medicinals. The larger cities are well supplied with trained native physicians, most of whom have educated in the United States.

A total of $70,000 has been distributed to members of the Paducah Fruit and Vegetable Growers' association, Inc., as receipts for the 1935 strawberry crop.

Beneath The Surface

Storm driven winds may whip the sea into waves many feet high, yet deep down below the surface all is calm and still.

Banking is like that. There may be shifting cross currents and trends, but beneath the surface the basic principles remain unchanged. It is the aim at this bank to be guided by the underying principles of banking, avoiding undue weight to mere surface indications.

This, we believe is the key to successful bank management.
